

Year 12 Photography: Summer Assignment

One apple; twelve ways: Photographic skills

Over the summer holidays you are to record the apple you have been given in twelve different ways. Each image needs to be postcard size (e.g. A6, 6"x4", 14.8cm x 10.5cm).

How you record that apple is up to you; however, each of the 12 ways needs to be different. You can vary the layout, the setting, the colour, what each image is printed onto and the apple's state (e.g. whole, sliced, eaten etc).

REMEMBER: Only one apple can be used, so whatever you do to that apple cannot be undone. E.g. photograph it whole before you slice it, or peel it etc...

You could photograph it on its own, in a situation/place, inspired by a photographer or artist etc.... The possibilities are endless. They could be in black and white, colour, colour pop, digitally edited etc.

How you present these 12 recordings is up to you. E.g. in a sketchbook, tape them together into a concertina, tape them in a grid, frame them, transfer the images onto fabric or make a three dimensional presentation etc....

IMPORTANT: You must prove that all these images have been taken by you. This can be proved by providing a contact sheet of the images, screen shots of the digital development, and the images supplied on a memory stick etc

The skills you will be marked on:

- Layout of each image
- Creativity with what you have done to the apple
- The variety of ways you photograph the apple
- Camera skills – using photographic composition rules, technical skills with exposures, depth of field, shutter speed, lighting and camera angle
- Clarity of the photos, e.g. in focus, appropriate focal point in the image.
- What techniques you have used digitally or what the images are printed onto
- Presentation of the twelve images

Deadline for the assignment is the first day back after the summer holidays. We would strongly suggest you come to C23 or C24 to hand it in, even if you don't have photography on that day. This assignment will be your first formal assessment of the A level Photography course.
