Resources for students

- University of Birmingham website has details of all our courses and opportunities
- Pre-recorded videos on general aspects of higher education are available to watch - Writing a personal statement, hints and tips from admission tutors; Choosing courses/universities; The benefits of higher education and Student finance
- Skills4uni is an interactive study skills website that takes sixth form students through the lifecycle of a project; from planning and research, through to final draft and presentation of the work. The materials have been designed to help support students with their sixth form work while simultaneously developing the independent learning skills needed for higher education study
- Subject specific materials to help enhance students understanding of studying degree level subjects
- Interviews with our academics on current topical issues in relation to their research

Webinars for students

These feature live presentations on both general topics e.g. Benefits of Higher Education; Choosing Courses and Universities; Tips for your UCAS Personal Statement; Why Study at the University of Birmingham and Student Life at the University of Birmingham and on specific subjects. They provide opportunity to ask questions and get answers and last for up to an hour. More webinars will be added in the coming weeks. Students must register to attend and can find further details on our webinar webpages.

Open Days and Campus Tours

Open Days will take place virtually in October, November and December and students can register their interest in attending an open day. We are hoping to offer campus tours for potential applicants and their parents/carers from the end of October and students can register their interest in these on our website. In the meantime they can take a virtual campus tour.
